About Us

Skopio Manager is a mobile based scanning and tracking application. Using cloud backend to access real-time data & analytics, and related data captured via mobile app, such as - timestamp, geo coding and status assigned on a cloud platform, allows organizations to get maximum benefits from investments, without costly business disruptions, or lengthy integration processes.

Barcode Scan :

Barcodes, aka optical Morse code, can be generated with messages, or data. These barcodes can be scanned and triggered to collect events such as- barcode and GPS data, instantiate billing (invoice, orders...) and 3rd party/customized functions via apps, and send data on a Cloud platform to databases.

Applicable Services which require real-time data:

- Asset Management tracking.
- Inventory Control.
- Location Based Status.
- Security Check-Points.
- Customized Data Collection.
- Rule based Real-time Alerts.
- Customizable Analytics.
- Basic and Advanced Statistical Graphs.

Skopio Manager delivers speed and accuracy to smartphones, tablets, and desktops. Our cross-platform capabilities and ability to capture accurate readings (even on devices which lack autofocus), makes it inimitable, indispensable, and versatile asset to any organization.

Our software, designed with mobile business professionals in mind, enables the professional to view real-time work progress anywhere in the world- at anytime- from any device. In addition to flexibility, it reduces the need to carry secondary and bulky external hardware. We believe you can be as productive out of the office, as you are in it.

Along with the integration of mobile application, cloud platform and user interface running on a browser, provides the power to enhance customized solutions for various business verticals that require real-time analysis to make decisions and provide quality customer service. The API's provide real-time access to the data that has been collected and stored on the Amazon Cloud Platform for feature enhancements or customized solutions.
